Although given the right to resume her maiden name of Frances Helene Cease, she brings the present action under the name of Mrs. Heft. She is now living in East Mauch Chunk, Penn. She was married to Colonel Heft February 22, 1878, at Mason City, Ill. The divorce was obtained on the charge of infidelity.

Colonel Heft was noted internationally as a builder of electric railroad systems. He was for many years consulting engineer of the New Haven road, to which he sold his trolley company holdings in Connecticut.

His second wife, who was Mrs. Mary Josephine Moore, of Washington, is living at his mansion on Park Avenue, Bridgeport, where are kept art treasure of the cotton producers for handling this season's crop.

Liverpool was relatively early, with private cables attributing the decline to more hedge sciling, and the market here opened net unchanged to 8 points lower. Offering, were very well taken around 10.46 for October and 11.03 for January, however and prices soon steaded on covering and buil support. Liverpool sold cetton here, but this was evidently against reschief the English market, as prices there rallied quite sharply, and the offerings of spot people were also readily taken on comparatively slight reactions. The talk of showers and lower temperatures in the Southwest represented about the only criticism of immediate weather conditions, but the recent better weather has not been accompanied by improvement in the general average of the crop news, and there were further scattering complaints, particularly from the Southwest. October contracts, which sold at 10.46, advanced to 10.80 in the late trading, while January worked up to 11.29, or within 9 points of last week's high records.
